

where we've been...

COUNTRY CLUB Gledswood Hills by Brooke

My husband, Ryan and I visited Country Club Gledswood Hills to try their Countryside Chargrilled BBQ in February. I really enjoy the American BBQ style meat so I had put my hand up to try this one - and Ryan enjoys food in general.

This menu is only available Thursday - Saturday from 5.30pm and Sunday from 11.30am. The BBQ menu offers, Beef Short Ribs, Beef Brisket and Pork Ribs along with daily BBQ specials. These are each served with a variety of slaw, smoked corn, onion rings, mac'n'cheese and a milk bun.

We arrived at 12.40pm on the Sunday afternoon and it was packed. They were already sold out of the Pork Ribs, so my advice is to get there early.

Ryan was delighted to see that the daily special was Lamb Ribs (his favourite), so this was his order and I went with the Beef Short Ribs. These are both served with slaw, corn, onion rings and a milk bun.

The beef was very tender and tasty and I enjoyed the range of sides. It was a huge meal though, so I wasn't able to eat nearly as much of it as I would have liked. Not surprisingly, Ryan got through his and commented throughout how much he was loving the lamb.

We also found this to be really good value for money. The meals are huge and the members' prices made this meal just under $50 for the two of us (excluding drinks).

I've not really seen this American BBQ style food anywhere else in Macarthur, so if you enjoy your meat, definitely check this out. And if someone in your party is not a huge meat fan, there's also the bistro, which has a huge variety of options and smaller meals for the kids.